

Now, more than ever Jewish Museum Milwaukee is relevant. The Museum weaves the themes of social justice, empathy, inclusion, and the responsibility to repair the world in our permanent and special exhibits, programs, and student initiatives. Your donation to JMM's annual campaign ensures thought-provoking exhibits, programs and educational opportunities for people of every age, race and religion. The Museum provides a safe place WHERE CONVERSATIONS HAPPEN between visitors, children, program attendees, and with many varied partners. These include the Nathan & Esther Pelz Holocaust Education Resource Center (HERC), the Jewish Home and Care Center, Arts@Large, SHARP Literacy, the Milwaukee Art Museum, and the University of Wisconsin system schools to name a few.

THIS PAST YEAR ALONE, JMM SERVED OVER 2,000 school children from across the Greater Milwaukee area from Milwaukee Public Schools to parochial schools; from Jewish day schools to homeschool groups; many encountering the Jewish religion and community for the first time. They learned about Jewish life and explored diverse topics such as intolerance, the effects of immigration policy and so much more. Adult programs looked at interfaith dialogue, memory and game playing, the power of political cartoons, the Eichmann trial, and art as propaganda to name a few.

HELP THE CONVERSATIONS CONTINUE IN 2017. JMM needs your support to continue offering high caliber, meaningful exhibits, educational initiatives and programs. JMM is the place where people of diverse backgrounds explore history and its lessons, learn from each other's narratives, and discover new perspectives on relevant topics.

No amount is too small! Your thoughtful donation will support Museum activities that inform and inspire. All gifts are greatly appreciated by students, visitors, staff and the board of trustees.
